

North Carolina Quilt Symposium 2011

History Revisited – Old Is New Again

If you missed Symposium this year, you missed a good time in Raleigh! Thursday was hot, hot, hot, but the temperatures moderated and Peace College offered cool classrooms and shady outdoor spaces. The Opening Ceremony was standing room only; the rest of the weekend was spent in classes, workshops, demonstrations and lectures by wonderful faculty – this Symposium's "Dream Team".

The Quilt Show was well attended and the vendors all agreed they were glad to be at Symposium. The Viewer's Choice award went to Judith Heyward for "Swamp Hibiscus". The Block Party - Applique' winner was June Ross, and Block Party – Pieced winner was Evelyn Judson. Special awards went to:

- Best Hand Quilting – Mary Abbott Williams
 - Best Machine Quilting – Jane Volkers
- Special Recognition: Uniqueness – Susie Williams
- NSCSI Board Choice – Anna LaFrance, Linda James
 - Judges Choice, Ann Fahl – Robin Lynne Caruso
 - Judges Choice, Karen Kay Buckley – Cyndy Ward
- Judges Choice – Kathlyn Sullivan – Wanda Thompson, Kim Zebrowski
 - Wearable, Best Garment – Carrie Porterfield
- Carolina Longarm Association, Best Machine Quilting – Jane Volkers

The Silent Auction Apron Challenge to benefit the Interfaith Food Shuttle was a huge success! We had 85 aprons made and donated by NCQS11 participants. The designs ranged from silly to sophisticated and each was a work of art. The Viewer's Choice vote went to Annette Lew for "Hooters." The highest bid, for $100.00, went to "Home is Where the Hearth Is", made by Ruth Powers. All aprons received bids and brought in over $2000.00. Quilters are the best! Thanks for your generous spirit.

Congratulations to Candy Joehrendt of Raleigh! She was the "History Revisited – Old Is New Again" opportunity quilt winner. Debbie Feulner of Fayetteville was the winner of the Bernina Activa 210 and gift basket from Loving Stitches.
